Art and interior design is often a way for we as humans to create a ‘natural’ living environment, within a not so natural environment of concrete, steel, and bustling urban environments. By bringing nature closer to us we can experience the peace and tranquility that nature provides without leaving our homes. “This is the intention of my work, to remind us of our intimate connection with nature and the beauty of planet earth.” These sculptures of leaves, and flowers each radiate a particular mood. Custom orders are available for anyone interested in producing a particular leaf or flower, or object.
